WOMAN ADMITS SLAYING CHILD

Tells Police Her Small Flat Couldn't Hold Children and Man She Loved

CONFESSION COMPLETE

Girl's Body and Her Brother Found Slashed and Burned, Boy Tells of Attack

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, May 1[illegible] — Police said today that Mrs. Helen Tiernan, 28-year-old attractive blond, confessed she killed her eight-year-old daughter Helen and assaulted her [illegible]-year-old son James in woods near Brookhaven, Long Island.

Deputy Chief Inspector Francis J. Kear announced the confession.

"She told me that she committed the acts because she was in love with a man but couldn't accommodate him and the children in the small flat the family lived in," the inspector stated.

Kear said the woman confessed that she alone did the deed.

Body Found Yesterday

The girl's body was found cut and burned yesterday afternoon at 2:30 p. m.; her little wounded brother was nearby.

Kear said the love motive was suspected and that questioning was pursued along that line.

"She made a complete confession, giving all the details," the inspector said.

Shortly before Kear announced the confession a man believed to be a suitor of Mrs. Tiernan was brought in to the police station. Police would not say whether Mrs. Tiernan was confronted with the man but it was understood his appearance weakened her reserve.

Two incidents led to Mrs. Tiernan's questioning. An official of a day nursery in which the children were boarded days recognized a picture of the boy in a newspaper and called police.

Boy Gives Name and Address

At about the same time the little boy recovered sufficiently to tell Suffolk county police his name, his mother's name and the address of the nurser[illegible].

Suffolk county police said the boy also told them he saw his mother hit h[illegible] sister.

Mrs. Tiernan was a [illegible] employed up to two weeks ago by Gobie and Kaufman. Records of the Tucker, Stitcher and Pleaters union local 66 showed that she went on a $[illegible] a week [illegible] benefit two weeks ago following a [illegible]

Police said an effort apparently had been made to kill them both with a knife or ax, the slayer attempting to cover up evidence by burning both bodies.

The girl's throat was cut and her body was badly [illegible] across the shoulders, along the back and down the legs. Her hands were lacerated. Police said [illegible] she had died of [illegible].

The boy had a [illegible] inch gash in his throat. Hospital attendants said he was expected to recover, although his hair was singed. He was not seriously burned.

The girl's body was found by a young couple walking in [illegible] Pickett [illegible] found the boy lying down as if asleep about two hours later. Medical men believed the attacks had been about 12 hours before.

The only clues the police had at first were the feverish replies of the little boy to their many ques-

SEVERAL COURT COMPROMISES TO BE OFFERED

Sen. Logan Predicts Agreement on Plan To Appoint One Justice a Year

ASKS RETIREMENT AT 75

Has Other Substitute Proposals But Expects They Will Be Rejected

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 1[illegible] — [illegible] Logan [illegible] announced today [illegible] agreement [illegible] for appointment of one justice a year. [illegible] he would be [illegible] favor [illegible]

[illegible] Logan [illegible] the President's [illegible]

Has Other Substitutes

Several other compromises will be offered in the committee, Logan said. He said, however, he believed none would be [illegible].

Senators opposing the President's court bill called a conference on a [illegible] to [illegible] all modification proposals or a temporary [illegible] work out some alternative program.

Leaders of the foes were more interested in supreme court proceedings, however, than in the final committee debate. They watched for a possible decision [illegible] the constitutionality of the social security act.

Rejection Would Aid Bill

A decision against the law, [illegible] said, might gain support for the President's bill.

Unconfirmed reports of impending retirements from the supreme court also interested both sides. Some observers held the opinion that justices generally labeled as conservatives could not leave the bench without appearing to withdraw under fire. Others expressed the belief that a ruling in favor of the social security act might convince them their views had no chance of prevailing in the court.

Latest surveys disclosed at least 10 votes against the bill in the 18-man committee. There was a possibility that the opposition might pick up one or two additional in view of the administration's decision not to accept any compromise.

Here is how the committee lined up on the eve of its long awaited decision:

For the bill: Chairman Ashurst, Democrat, of Arizona; Neely, Democrat, of West Virginia; Logan, Democrat, of Kentucky; Dieterich, Democrat, of Illinois; Pittman, Democrat, of Nevada, and probably Norris. Total 6.

Against the bill: King, Democrat, of Utah; Van Nuys, Democrat, of Indiana; McCarran, Democrat, of Nevada; Hatch, Democrat, of New Mexico; Burke, Democrat, of Nebraska; Connally, Democrat, of Texas; O'Mahoney, Democrat, of Wyoming; Borah, Republican, of Idaho; Austin, Republican, of Vermont, and Steiwer, Republican, of Oregon. Total 10.

Uncommitted: McGill and Hughes, Democrats of Delaware.

Film Players Promise To Work After Getting Better Pay and Closed Shop

By The Associated Press

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., May 17—Unionized film players granted better pay and closed shop were pledged today not to strike during the next 10 years, but a [illegible]-day walkout of craftsmen still harassed Hollywood studios.

The strike front of the Federated Motion Picture Crafts was broken, however, when members of two of its 10 unions returned to work. These, the machinists and culinary workers, numbering about 300 of the federation's 5,100 striking members, agreed to begin formal negotiations with producers in 10 days.

Refusing to return were the painters, plumbers, boilermakers, scenic artists, hairdressers, makeup artists, utility workers and stationary engineers.

Two thousand members of the Screen Actors Guild, at their third weekly mass meeting, ratified a 10-year contract with 12 studios last night.

VOTE IN STEEL MILLS PLANNED

Election Thursday To Determine Union Status Among Jones & Laughlin Workers

LABOR BOARD IN CHARGE

Majority Poll Required To Give Organizers Sole Bargaining Privileges

By The Associated Press

PITTSBURGH, May 1[illegible] — The Steel Workers Organizing committee [illegible] to call strikes in the [illegible] independent steel producers unless it obtains collective bargaining agreements [illegible] turned to [illegible] an employe election in the Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp plant.

The vote Thursday will determine if the committee shall be the collective bargaining agent for the firm's 27,000 workers. The corporation agreed to give a contract if the union could produce a majority in the balloting.

A 36-hour strike called in the midst of negotiations for a collective bargaining agreement between Chairman H. E. Lewis of the $200,000,000 corporation and Chairman Philip Murray of the Steel Workers Organizing committee ended on the election.

Majority Would Bring Contract

The corporation agreed to give a contract to the union for exclusive bargaining powers of all its [illegible] workers (excluding [illegible]) if the union [illegible] produce a majority in the Thursday vote.

Both sides agreed to the election [illegible] on the company's property. Regional Director Ernst C. Dunbar of the national labor relations board will have charge.

The union held a meeting yesterday near the Aliquippa mill and explained to its members, a large number of whom are foreign-born, the proper method of marking the ballots.

The biggest labor election so far supervised by the government has been the one held at the Packard Motor Car Co. plant in Detroit, including about 12,000 workers. The union won an overwhelming victory.

After signing a collective bargaining agreement with the [illegible] billion dollar United States Steel Corp last March the union—a subsidiary of John L. Lewis' Committee for Industrial Organization—has signed contracts with more than 120 other smaller steel concerns.

CONGRESS OFFERED NEW FARM ADJUSTMENT PLAN

Program Combines Features of Former AAA, Ever-Normal Granary and Hoover's Farm Board.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 17—Farm leaders offered to congress today a new agricultural adjustment program which they said combined features of the invalidated AAA, Secretary Wallace's ever normal granary proposal and the old Hoover farm board.

The American Farm Bureau federation and other farm organizations drafted the bill, aimed at controlled production and parity prices for farmers. It was sent to the house and senate agriculture committees.

The bill would allow the Commodity Credit Corp. to loan producers of basic crops from 50 to 90 per cent of the parity value of their produce.

(The parity price is that which agriculture department economists figure a commodity should bring in order for farm income to be in balance with labor and industrial values. Thus it fluctuates as other prices rise or decline.)

Government loans would be made only if the market price approached or fell below parity.

If it went below, farmers could turn over part of their crops to the Commodity Credit Corp. and receive a loan. They also would receive a parity payment representing the difference between the loan and the parity price.

The Commodity Credit Corp. would store supplies which it acquired for market during a period of scarcity. Thus sponsors of the program said prices would be stabilized and an abundance of farm products insured at all times.

The measure also proposed a quota system in event of threatened excessive overproduction. Farmers producing beyond their quotas would be assessed penalty payments.

Collaborating in writing the bill were representatives of the Farm Bureau, the National Grange, the National Cooperative council, the Farmers Union and the Farmers National Grain Corp.

The prospect of hearing the story behind the story in the hatcheting last July 31 of Mrs. MacKnight, literary chairman of a Bayonne women's club, drew a capacity crowd to the courtroom.

This was the story on the police records:

In the kitchen of their brown-painted frame house in Bayonne, set back in a yard where the athletic Gladys practiced her tennis game, Mrs. MacKnight's body was found by her husband Edgar, when he came home from work at a cable company.

Gladys, who had planned to enter college in the fall, had been at a beer garden with Donald in the afternoon and went home with him eager to have dinner early and get to the courts for a twilight game of tennis.

Mrs. MacKnight didn't like Donald and she tried to break up the match, the girl was quoted [illegible] Chief [illegible] as saying after her arrest with her sweetheart.

INSURANCE WEEK WILL BE OBSERVED

Marion Agents To Join in Event, Radio Broadcasts Are Scheduled

Marion insurance men are joining others of the country in observing the fifth annual life insurance week, May 17-22. The program is not a drive for more business but rather one of education to familiarize the public with the advantages of life insurance, agents explained.

A national radio observance of the week includes the following programs: Thomas H. Beck, president of the Crowell Publishing Co., speaks tonight at 5:35 over WEAF-NBC and Miss Lena Madesin Phillips, associate editor of Pictorial Review and president of the International Federation of Business and Professional Women, will speak at 3:15 p. m. Wednesday over WABC-CBS.

A former Marion man, V. C. Smith, who left here about eight years ago, is chairman of the celebration in Columbus, where he now heads an agency. While in Marion, Mr. Smith was in the electrical appliance business and lived on Marion avenue.

The necessity for a planned life insurance program for the family, the value of endowment policies for education, the use of guaranteed income policies and the influence of women and housewives in the family financial life are points being stressed by underwriters this week.

Curb on Processing Tax Refunds Upheld

WASHINGTON, May 17—The supreme court today upheld provisions of the 1936 revenue act restricting government refunds out of the $[illegible] of processing and floor [illegible] taxes collected under the invalidated agricultural adjustment act.

It was delivered on litigation by the An[illegible] Manufacturing Co. of Alabama, seeking to recover $[illegible]9,854 paid as taxes under the agricultural adjustment act.

A major requirement of the 1936 revenue act was that all taxpayers in order to obtain a refund prove that they had not passed the cost of the levy to the consumer or any one else but bore it themselves.

Justice McReynolds dissented but wrote no opinion.

Other provisions of the act require the filing of new claims for refund and prohibit maintenance of suits except on appeal to a treasury department board of review from a ruling by the commissioner of internal revenue. Appeals then could be carried to the federal circuit courts and to the supreme court.

The Alabama company contended it had a right to sue in the courts to obtain a refund of taxes illegally collected. The government countered that congress has a complete and unfettered power to give within it or take away the jurisdiction of the inferior federal courts.

Chief Justice Hughes, delivering the 8 to 1 opinion, said:

"We conclude that the authorized procedure provides for a full and fair hearing and determination of all matters of fact and that through judicial review it provides for the protection of all the legal rights of the petitioner, including any constitutional right which it may be entitled to invoke with respect to the refund which it seeks.

"The petitioner may thus obtain through this proceeding whatever judgment its case warrants, a judgment which the government, by virtue of the requirement that the commissioner (of internal revenue) shall make refund accordingly, binds itself to pay."

Administration officials engaged in attempting to balance the budget expressed gratification at the court's decision.

Hughes said the government "has not denied its obligation to refund the amounts found in the authorized proceeding to be recoverable, but has recognized that obligation."

"In such a case," he continued, "the substitution of an exclusive remedy directly against the government is not an invasion of constitutional right. Nor does the requirement of recourse to administrative procedure establish invalidity if legal rights are still suitably protected."

After reviewing the procedure provided by the act for recovery suits Hughes said:

"We think that this plan of procedure provides for the judicial determination of every question of law which the claimant is entitled to raise.

"Every constitutional right which the petitioner here is entitled to invoke with respect to the refund of the taxes which it has paid may be heard and determined by the court of appeals and ultimately by this court upon a review of a decision reached in the course of the prescribed administrative procedure."

Annual College Track Event To Be Wide Open, Five Teams To Compete

By The Associated Press

DELAWARE, O., May 17.—The 12th annual Buckeye conference track meet, scheduled here Friday and Saturday, loomed today as a wide open battle between Miami, Ohio Wesleyan and Ohio University, with the Redskins of Oxford, defending champions, getting the lightest of edges.

Miami won the crown a year ago in the closest meet ever staged in the Buckeye. The Redskins won with 60½ points while Wesleyan had 60, and Ohio U. 61¼. Cincinnati was fourth with 25¼ and Marshall wound up in the cellar with 5.

Marshall's thundering herd is not slated to compete this year, but Dayton, back in the track wars after an absence of several years, will make it a five team race.

Miami takes its slight edge to repeat through a 77 to 54 dual meet win over Ohio Wesleyan. Both teams feature all-around strength rather than individual [illegible].

Edson Diehl, Dayton sophomore, is Wesleyan's ace. He looms as the [illegible] to beat in both hurdles and the broad jump. Bob Recker, league champion, is sure to score points in the high jump and Pat Brooks should help Wesleyan's cause in the shot put.

TRAILER CATHEDRAL CALLED ADVENTURE

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, O., May 17.—A projected trailer cathedral to serve the southern Ohio diocese of the Episcopal church was pictured today by Rt. Rev. Henry Wise Hobson, diocesan head, as an adventure in religion.

MURDER ON THE BLUFF

BY ARTHUR TYLER

SYNOPSIS: First of the [illegible] [illegible] Michael [illegible] which makes us all jittery on this will-[illegible] week-end at Farrington Bluff house. [illegible] Michael's aunts. Then a series of strange attacks [illegible] Present are Mike, the Skipper, his tall tweedy [illegible] aunt, Aunt Martha, stout and [illegible] Mike's red-headed sweetheart, [illegible] myself and [illegible] servants. It is [illegible] that the [illegible] of Michael's insane father, supposedly long since dead below the bluff, [illegible] explains much that has happened.

CHAPTER [illegible]

The Danger's Not Over

"W[illegible]" [illegible]

[illegible] somewhere where we can't be heard."

I said at him, "What about? There's no one to hear us, Higgins. What's on your mind?"

"Would you come into the living room, sir?"

Reflecting that the poor old boy probably wanted to [illegible] telling me his version of the story, I followed him into the living room.

"Well, what is it, Higgins?"

"Mr. Jimmie, the Farringtons have always been almost like my own family, as you might say. The old gentleman was very good to me when I was just a boy, sir, and new in this country, if you see what I mean."

I smiled at him reassuringly. "I see what you mean. They've been pretty swell to me too. What the deuce ailed him? If he trusted me enough to tell me the story, why all the preliminaries?"

"This affair has been most unfortunate, sir."

My patience was getting a bit thin. I had many things to say to Michael and I wanted to say them before he had soaked himself into a complete stupor. I frowned.

I said sharply, "What's on your mind?"

"Mr. Jimmie," he stepped closer to me and spoke in a hoarse whisper, "the danger's not over yet—"

He stopped suddenly and an amazing thing happened. His eyes fixed on the window behind me seemed about to pop from his head and under my very nose the man seemed to shrivel up. I wheeled toward that window. There was no one there, and my patience snapped.

"Higgins, what the devil are you looking at? What are you talking about?"

He passed a trembling hand over his eyes. "I—I don't know. Possibly [illegible] I have been imagining things. Please forget it, sir." With a certain dignity he straightened himself.

Exasperated beyond all endurance, I fairly roared at him to speak his piece.

"Nothing sir. I have been forgetting myself. Please excuse me."

I made a wild lunge, but he got to the door before I did. Crossing to the window, I leaned against it, staring out at the dismal lawn, my brain in an uproar.

Footprint on the Tile

"The danger's not over." What did that remark have to do with the depressing secret of Farrington Bluff? What—? My eyes had fallen to the tiling on the porch floor just outside the window. There clearly defined in rapidly hardening mud was the imprint of a rubber boot. Higgins had seen someone at that window—someone who might or might not have heard what he was starting to say. The wild thought crossed my mind that maybe he was right, that there was more trouble to come, but I rejected it impatiently. What a hair-trigger state we had all gotten into. I went off in search of Michael.

He was not in his room. A disorderly confusion of clothes, books and papers gave mute testimony to his state of mind, and a nearly [illegible] decanter of [illegible] told me that the Skipper's fear for him were justified. I thought first of the footprint outside the living room window and then of Norman Farrington [illegible] halfway down the bluff. Farrington Bluff was no place for a drunken man—particularly a drunken man in Michael's frame of mind.

In [illegible] hope of finding him I rushed [illegible] the bathroom into my [illegible] room. He wasn't there. And I was reasonably certain that he w[illegible] downstairs. There were only two possibilities. Either he must be in talking to the Skipper or [illegible] must be outside. I rushed [illegible] the hall and raced with all my might [illegible] Skipper's door. With[illegible] to knock I flung it open. The Skipper['s] [illegible] lay on the bed and her boots on the floor beside them, but there was no one in the room. I had barely time [illegible] that fact when a deafening report of a gun [illegible] the [illegible]

[illegible] I was [illegible] had seemed to [illegible] direction of the [illegible] I [illegible] [illegible] going [illegible] room a[illegible] [illegible] with a bang.

[illegible] the doorway [illegible] beside the dressing table [illegible] [illegible] flew of [illegible] [illegible] a lot in [illegible] [illegible] a race [illegible]

[illegible] through [illegible] [illegible] and [illegible] that pause [illegible] [illegible] of his incredulous face. His eyes fell and he moved unsteadily toward the bathroom. I wrenched [illegible] from my own appalling predicament to the old lady.

She was alive. A bullet had torn through her left shoulder. Mechanically I noted that she had been shot from the rear at close range. There were powder marks on the back of her lavender robe and the profuse bleeding in front seemed to indicate that the bullet had torn straight through. Higgins had been right. We were still in for it.

Clumsily Mike deposited [illegible] of [illegible] beside me, [illegible] hypnotized, incapable of speech. And I was glad of it.

[illegible] the Skipper [illegible] [illegible] starting to [illegible] [illegible] with my [illegible] [illegible] Mike. Her head [illegible]

The Skipper was there beside me before he could seem to move. Her face was grim and [illegible]

"Give me that, Jim," she said [illegible] "[illegible] there's a first aid kit in the bathroom. Get it, please."

Higgins at the Keyhole

I got up with difficulty. I couldn't seem to get my mind away from the fact that I would be suspected of this shooting. It took me at least three minutes to find the first aid kit in the cabinet over the basin. While I was fumbling around in the process I could hear Guy's high excited voice. The thing must have been heard all over the house. In another minute the aunts would be tumbling in on us. Vaguely I wondered as I crossed the few steps to the Skipper's [illegible] what had kept them off so long.

Mike and I were of about as much use as an oil burner in the Sahara. But the Skipper worked quickly and carefully. Between us we lifted Mrs. Farrington to the bed and stood waiting while the Skipper applied restoratives. Slowly, in a series of unpleasant groans, the old lady came out of it and was immediately acutely ill. I made for the door as fast as I could go, only to bump smack into Higgins straightening himself from an oblong keyhole attitude in the hall.

"What has happened, sir?" he said without a trace of embarrassment.

I closed the door behind me with a jerk. "What are you doing, Higgins?" I countered.

"Miss Barbara was giving me some instructions in the lower hall. We heard what sounded like a shot and hurried up here. I stayed in the hall at her request to keep the servants out of the way, sir."

Very pat, Higgins. Glaring at him I noticed suddenly that he was holding something in his hand, something wrapped up in a handkerchief. And he saw my look.

"I found this on the stand here just now. I thought perhaps you had better take care of it until the police arrive."

Deliberately he unwrapped from the handkerchief his own revolver, to my knowledge [illegible] on the [illegible] I reached for it involuntarily, [illegible] I don't know what [illegible] Perhaps it was the [illegible] he [illegible] offered it to me. Higgins was carefully [illegible] direct contact with [illegible] I managed to take it [illegible] handkerchief and all without touching the metal. Furiously I hurled questions at him. No results that meant anything.

Cook was in the kitchen. He was [illegible] of it because he had been there when he answered Miss Barbara's ring, and both William and Annie were certain that she had not come up the back stairs. They had just left him. They claimed to have been in their room when they heard the shot, and he believed that they were because they had not been in the kitchen when the Skipper rang. They appeared immediately after the shot was heard. It was all very upsetting, just when we have been sure that the trouble was all over. He would very much like to know what had happened.

"Someone shot and painfully wounded Mrs. Farrington," I said bluntly.

He staggered back against the wall. "Painfully wounded," he repeated in a [illegible] whisper. "Painfully."

A thought was dawning in my head. "Merely a flesh wound," I said deliberately, with my eyes on his face. "She [illegible] conscious and there's no danger."

It didn't work. His eyes were on the floor, his face expressionless.

We realize that the killer is still at large in the house, tomorrow.

WHAT TO DO

Too few people know WHAT TO DO when called upon to make funeral arrangements. The emotional strain resulting from the death of a member of the family, a relative or a friend makes wise and careful decision at that moment extremely difficult.

One way to lighten that burden is to have calmly prepared in advance some of the arrangements—which includes the family burial plot. It is not morbid to do this, merely common sense.

The Forest Glen Memorial Park organization renders a most intimate and personal service to any now willing to consider this important matter of life.

A letter, phone call or visit to our offices will receive most courteous attention.

MARIONITES TO SEE BLIMP ON THURSDAY

Resolute Will Pass Over City on Expo Tour of Southern, Central Ohio.

A Goodyear giant blimp will fly over Marion Thursday at 1 p. m. on a good will tour over central and southern Ohio on behalf of the Great Lakes exposition at Cleveland, representatives of the show announced here today. The ship will fly in from the south at low altitude and over the center of the city will drop parachutes carrying free tickets to the exposition, the agents said.

On board the craft, commanded by Frank A. Trotter, winner of several national balloon races, will be Mayor Harold H. Burton of Cleveland, Safety Director Elliott Ness and two [illegible] otherwise pretty girls.

The blimp is called the Resolute and is filled with non-explosive helium. Streaming behind it will be a 40-foot sign. The ship is one of five Goodyear blimps and is 140 feet long, 40 feet high, powered by two [illegible]-horsepower motors, speeds at 60 miles an hour and can reach a ceiling of 6,000 feet.

It only recently returned from winter operations in Florida and was also engaged in flood relief work in Memphis.

The exposition will open May 29. New this year is Billy Rose' Aquacade with a 100-floating stage and a cast of 500 dancing, singing and swimming girls. Last year 5,000,000 visitors attended.

Dust Once Chased Animals From Nebraska

BY HOWARD BLAKESLEE

Associated Press Science Editor

LINCOLN, Neb. — Present-day Americans "ain't seen nothin'" yet of the dust storms of which the southwest was once capable. Around 20,000 years ago they even chased the animals out of western Nebraska.

The evidence is reported by Dr. A. L. Lugn of the University of Nebraska department of geology. Because of what the dust storms buried, and the peculiar conditions of the dust formations of long ago in that area, Dr. Lugn finds that western Nebraska probably will be the richest spot in the United States for revealing convincing evidence of the antiquity of man in North America.

The Nebraska geologists have found three layers or "horizons" in the western Nebraska dust-made lands. The top is the soil known to present-day man. Below is a great depth showing no buried evidences of human habitation. Below that is a third layer containing man's stone tools. Still lower, it is predicted, one or two further "horizons" may be found.

4 H Club Leaders Map Plans for 1937 Activity

Increased Enrollment Indicated This Year, R. W. Pifer, Assistant County Agent, Reports.

Indications that 1937 4-H club enrollment in Marion county will surpass the record of 415 set last year were seen today by Assistant County Agent Raymond W. Pifer as he announced plans for this year's club work. With the deadline set for the organization of the 32 clubs in the county set at June 1, already approximately one-third of the groups have elected officers and held first meetings, he said.

The history of the 4-H movement in Marion county is one of steady increase since the founding of the first club here before the World war. Up to 1925 the membership had risen to approximately 300 with 225 members finishing projects.

Then for the next eight years with the county having no county agent, clubs died out with the exception of a few sponsored by home economics and vocational agriculture teachers in county schools. Before County Agent S. E. Anderson was employed in 1933, the membership numbered only about 200.

His coming gave impetus to the program and in 1934 there were 22 clubs with 355 members. Since then a gradual rise had been in evidence. Mr. Pifer commented that the work in this county probably is somewhat behind the work of other counties because of the eight-year period in which no supervision was available.

May Form More Clubs

Organization work now under way for 1937 programs indicates that in addition to more members being enrolled, more clubs may be formed, Mr. Pifer said.

The high spots of the county program outlined today by Mr. Pifer are:

1. Radio broadcast by county 4-H members on June 7 from station WOSU in Columbus from 8 to to 8:30 p. m.
2. Leaders and officers training camp and Camp Owens June 17-19 for instructing them in supervision of clubs. State 4-H officials will be here as leaders.
3. Stock judging tour for boys in July to select judging teams to compete in district and state meets.
4. Tours of local clubs in August.
5. Participation in the dairy day program at Wooster, at the Ohio agricultural experiment station, Aug. 6. Marion county judging teams will compete.
6. County club picnic in August.
7. Tri-county club camp at Camp Sandusky in Seneca county, August 9-14. All 4-H members of Crawford, Marion and Wyandot counties will be eligible to attend.
8. Participation in the state junior fair Aug. 30 to Sept. 4.
9. Ohio 4-H club congress, Sept. 12-16 to be attended by many Marion county delegates.
10. Marion county fair, Sept. 14-18, with numerous 4-H club entries.
11. Exhibits by members at the Producers' Calf club show at Columbus, Oct. 26-27.
12. County achievement program in November with awarding of prizes and certificates.
13. Exhibits by members at the Cleveland Livestock show, Nov. 29-30.

Formed 35 Years Ago

In connection with the 1937 plans, Mr. Pifer outlined the purpose of the 4-H club movement which is the outgrowth of a small group in Mahoning county organized 35 years ago by A. B. Graham, now an official in the United States department of agriculture.

Each boy or girl who becomes a member attends regular club meetings, tours, camps, exhibits, picnics and similar events planned by the members themselves, he said. All are under the guidance of a local adult leader. The age limits are from 10 to 20.

Each member plans, works out and completes a farm, home or community project. A record of the project is also kept by the member and the record and the product are exhibited either locally or at the county fair, or even at the state fair.

To take care of the young men and women who pass the 20-year mark and hence out of the scope of 4-H club work, the county extension office is now working out the rural youth recreation program, started this year, to train these young people as leaders in community recreational work.

Mr. Pifer pointed out the interesting fact that when the 4-H movement took on new life here in 1933 and 1934, there were 280 girls and 75 boys enrolled, or four girls to each boy.

In 1935 this ratio was cut down to 307 girls and 107 boys, about three to one, and last year there were 175 boys and 278 girls, or about 1.5 girls to each boy. The goal is to obtain an equal number of each, if possible.

Since 1933 there has been a gradual increase in the number of members completing projects as follows: 1934, boys completed 54 per cent and girls 68 per cent for an average of 62; in 1935, 72 per cent of boys completed and 75 per cent of girls, for an average of 74 per cent; last year, 84.6 per cent of the boys completed and 82.4 per cent of the girls for an average of 83 per cent.

The number of leaders for clubs has also increased from 26 in 1934 to 36 in 1936 and the number of clubs from 22 to 31 in the same period.

The list of projects being offered to the members this year by the extension office follows:

Agricultural engineering—working with wood and obtaining skill with tools in either farm mechanics or in making of farm and home conveniences.

Beef breeding—learning about the care, feeding, management and marketing of beef breeding animals. A high grade calf must be obtained and raised to 12 or 15 months.

Steer feeding—learning about management, feeding, marketing of fat cattle.

Calf projects for different breeds are offered, varying in difficulty depending upon the member.

Corn growing—learning fundamentals of corn production, planting and caring for one-half acre or more.

Dairy projects—Learning about feeding, care and management of dairy cattle. Three separate courses.

Flower gardens and home beautifications—instruction of members in successful horticulture and problems of elementary landscaping.

Vegetable gardening—Growing of vegetables and study of importance in family diet, growing of several kinds.

Clothing—To aid girls and young women to look their best, to teach secrets of good dressing, to practice healthful living, making of clothing.

Home furnishing—Study of color, design, arrangement of rooms, effect of home on people, making of articles for the home. Five separate courses of graded difficulty.

Nutrition—To help girls look and be at their best physically and mentally; foods preparation, cooking, canning, planning of meals.

Guidance

W[illegible] to Washington [illegible] was met [illegible] gallery [illegible] plaud [illegible] return of [illegible] host. They had marched to the station behind a band to greet their leader.

The legislative majority had been floundering. When Republicans sarcastically proposed a homecoming celebration for Mr Roosevelt Democrats took them seriously. They weren't even bothered when some one referred to it as the [illegible] American coronation.

When the President returned to Washington Friday from his spring vacation there were no exercises. Congress has been in the doldrums. As long as Mr Roosevelt insists on having his own way about packing the supreme court all other business is secondary.

It is believed the President will confer immediately with his administration's congressional leaders on the state of his legislative program. In previous years when he has done this things have been straightened out quickly, causing many to believe he had another reason besides his health for taking a vacation in the spring while congress worked for a few weeks without his guidance.

Thus when his vacation plans were announced this year it was predicted congress would get into a snarl, he would return to straighten it out and the session would end with a bang. That still may happen. But in Washington news recently there has been an undertone of discontent unlike anything heard before during Mr Roosevelt's administration—a half spoken desire not for guidance but for a cessation of the kind of guidance which has led congress into the blind alley of judicial reorganization.

Between The Lines

The coronation of King George of England took place this morning. That much, no more, did Italian newspaper readers find in the controlled press about the outstanding event of 1937.

They read between the lines, of course. Il Duce was angry with the English and he was trying to show the English how angry he was. The English must be blankety blank pigs because they aren't being kind to Il Duce. But Il Duce, he knows best, so down with England!

Thereupon Il Duce's Constant Readers tossed their newspapers into a corner and started to tell each other how much they hated the English, and it was a good thing they had a new king because they would need one when Il Duce got through with them. Or at least that is what was supposed to happen. Whether it did happen or not may be visible to historians but at the moment the outcome still is uncertain.

Squeeze Play

The attempt to make sense out of apparently conflicting new deal purposes regarding the monopoly trend has led to an amazing possibility.

What promised at first to be another demonstration of jumping on one horse and riding off in two directions now is suspected of being a plan to gallop off in the same direction on two horses.

The new deal committed itself in the party platform to bolster antitrust laws. This was Sen. Borah's idea for the Republican platform which had been drawn up previously in a way supposed to enlist his support. When the Democrats did the same thing, however, Sen. Borah played no favorites and supported neither party [illegible].

This being one platform plank which it is convenient to take seriously, the Roosevelt administration says it will keep its promise to enforce the antitrust laws, even to add to them.

At first no one understood how a party which had suspended antitrust laws during NRA and which just a few days ago guaranteed immunity from the laws to coal operators working together in a price fixing scheme could enforce the same laws it was setting aside. The key to the mystery is in the mystery itself.

The government will set aside antitrust laws only for industries which are willing to come under its control, like the soft coal industry. Industries which continue under private control will have to take their chances with competition; they will be subject to the laws which theoretically keep competition alive. This would seem to qualify as the new deal's No. 1 squeeze play, so far.

Orders from the White House

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

W[illegible] White House [illegible]

[illegible] It's all in the viewpoint.

On April 26, 1937, Paul Mallon, [illegible] writer, related in his dispatch that a federal job paying $7,500 a year had to dispel some complications between rival candidates and that James Roosevelt, personal secretary to the President, had told Chairman Prall of the federal communications commission that [illegible] the Iowa delegation in the house was going to vote for his supreme court program and therefore their candidate for the job must be taken care of.

Condemned by Wilson

The episode aroused the San Francisco Chronicle to say editorially:

"Certainly the institutions of America for generations to come should not turn on who gets a $7,500 job now. That just this procedure is being used is notorious. This is the first specific example of it which comes in so blunt and substantial a form."

If the incident is true then this type of thing was more strongly condemned by Woodrow Wilson in his book on constitutional government when he wrote:

[illegible] means [illegible] their [illegible] fundamental [illegible] the power of the man who [illegible]

What did Mr Farley mean when he said that Senators O'Mahoney and McCarran [illegible] will find the White House [illegible] smaller to them when they ask [illegible] for executive action on matters affecting their respective states?

[illegible] that some [illegible] asked Mr Dillon about the [illegible] between Mr Prall and [illegible] can be other [illegible] when they are published [illegible] the authority of a member of the President's cabinet?

Wheeler's Attitude

Another [illegible] moreover to the one [illegible] came recently from Senator Wheeler, Democrat of Montana, who is [illegible] the President's effort to pack [illegible] Mr Wheeler is chairman of the [illegible] senate [illegible] the vice presidency in 1924 on the progressive ticket with the late Senator La Follette. Said Mr Wheeler in a public address which was edited out of a film by the Kansas board of moving picture censors and later restored:

"You can say that the privilege of appointing postmasters will not be accorded me. You can say that I'll get no more projects for my state. You can say what you please but I say to you Mr Farley to anybody else that I will vote against this proposition because it is morally wrong. It is morally unsound. It is a dangerous proceeding."

Is it a fact that a member of the present cabinet is acting on behalf of a President of the United States in establishing a system of political barter for votes in congress on a major measure of legislation?

If it is true and if it be defended it probably will be on the ground that the game of politics has embraced it heretofore and that new dealers have no more limitations on their political morality than old dealers. If so then government is still a victim of a vicious spoils system. If it is not so then a refreshing revelation of what the executive branch of the government is doing with respect to legislation, separating the proper from the improper influences, is due the many people who have reposed their faith in the idealism and virtue of the new deal itself and its chief exponents in high office.

Inflation, Its Cause and Effect

Assertions in congress that federal economy is necessary to avoid dangerous inflation have set people to asking again: What is inflation? What are its harmful effects? The Star presents answers to these and related questions on the basis of information from Washington authorities. A second article will follow tomorrow.

* * *

WASHINGTON May 17—Outside the economic field inflation is what happens to a toy balloon when you blow it up. It is what happens to a dry sponge when it soaks up water.

There is no more rubber in the inflated balloon but the rubber is stretched out and thinner. There is no more sponge after soaking but the sponge looks bigger.

Inflation occurs when the volume and velocity of money in circulation increases more rapidly than the supply of goods. Only the economists talk in terms of money and wealth, not air and rubber or water and sponge fiber.

Included in their word "money" is credit, the amount and speed of lending.

How It Happens

Inflation can come about either by unjustified expansion of credit or by simply printing money in excessive volume. It was the latter process in Germany after the war which made the old mark valueless.

Money is not wealth. You can't eat or wear it. Real wealth is commodities, land and goods. Money is the visible and practical form in which wealth is handled and exchanged.

If the supply of dollars or credit should outdistance the country's ability to produce wealth to an appreciable extent each dollar would have less actual backing of wealth and so in a day less reason for existence. That would be monetary inflation.

Its harmful effects, say those who believe it harmful, lie in the fact that more people with dollars clamor at such times for the same real wealth. They want the shoes, steel, steaks, automobiles, furniture, wheat and the like which can be worn, eaten or used.

Their competitive bidding for goods lifts prices. This induces speculative buying to profit from rising prices. The man on a fixed wage can buy less.

Balance Essential

In the past such inflationary waves have been followed by depression. Prices get too high and bring a day of reckoning. So the problem is to seek a balance between money supplies and national productive capacities.

Whether that problem now is or threatens to become acute is a matter of dispute. Spending advocates say no. Economy advocates say yes.

The government faced the problem in different form several years ago. Business and hence production were at low ebb. Many felt money supplies were less than real wealth justified. Banks were liquidating loans and not making new ones to private industry. Deposits dwindled.

But no one doubted the [illegible] productive capacities of the [illegible]

PARIS May 17—German antiaircraft is the best in the world. The Russians are unexcelled in the air.

These are two definite opinions gathered by French observers in the Spanish civil war, the biggest military and diplomatic theater in the world today.

"The Germans always have been the world's best optometrists and are excellent gunners," a high French official told the writer, "and this war in Spain is proving that they have developed the most deadly antiaircraft artillery of these times.

"They have shown repeatedly that aircraft coming within the range of their guns are doomed."

Low Flying Necessary

The only way that the Russians, who have proved far superior to anyone else—with the exception of the rare Americans in aerial combat—have figured out to cope with the deadliness of the German antiaircraft guns is to fly at extremely low levels.

By rushing in at three to four hundred feet heights in their raids they have managed to baffle German defenses. These marvelous motorized antiaircraft guns were not made to cope with raiders at that unorthodox altitude.

The Demagogues in Trouble

BY PAUL MALLON

WASHINGTON May 17—The Demagogue club, that secret cloakroom organization of house legislators, is having more trouble. It seems some of the more blatant demagogues are forming themselves into a separate camp to be known as the liberal demagogue. They consider the other members as reactionary demagogues.

What caused the split was: Several years ago the club adopted a resolution restricting any member from using the pet subject of another member without permission. For instance one had Wall Street, another the power people, etc. If a new demagogue wanted to use the Wall Street project he just notified the head of the Wall Street craft of the club. It was more or less routine and nearly every one was permitted to demagogue about nearly any subject.

But only one of those perpetually dissatisfied persons has gone and started something known as the C. U. D. (Committee for Unlimited Demagoguery). This has upset everything.

The old line demagogues really just believe in harmless humbuggery like the farmer who puts the best apples at the top of the barrel. They would not fool a voter about anything serious, at least not much.

Liberalism

Just why the C. U. D. men call themselves liberal is not apparent. The word comes from liberty but some of the economic regimentation they advocate means anything except liberty. In fact they seem to recognize no connection at all between the two words liberal and liberty.

They are not even liberal about taking other members to dinner as the old ones say. The only liberality which they espouse is that of unrestricted appropriation of the taxpayers' money. That seems to be where the liberal title comes from.

Twinkle

It was not recorded generally but President Roosevelt was asked straight out in the train interview about the question of the government controlling industrial prices.

This is the hottest subject around the inner circle now, but in such an intangible way as to escape getting into print. Sly hints have been dropped in choice circles about the possibility of the government creating an economic council to limit industrial production and influence prices. Agriculture Secretary Wallace has openly been playing prophet for such a development. Furthermore very reliable information indicates Mr. R's counselors are split sharply into two camps. One wants him to go trust busting in a sincere way and thus reach the price problem. The other wants him to revise the social structure of the country with some sort of Fascist like economic council.

Consequently newsmen cupped their ears when the question was asked of the President. His eyes twinkled and he replied:

"No news on that—yet."

The well informed betting hereabouts is running about 2 to 1 that Mr. R. will avoid the economic council idea and go trust busting.

Bidding

The basic fact behind the helium controversy will be found in the yet unpublished testimony of the house military affairs committee taken just fourteen days before the Hindenburg explosion. On the stand was James T. Howington of the Girder Corp. of Louisville. He put in the record a statement reading in part:

"During the last two years there has been a considerable interest in and a demand for helium by foreign countries. France was definitely in the market for at least 10,000,000 cubic feet. Japan would have made a purchase from my company of substantial quantities.

"The government of Holland has been interested in helium filled airships for service to the East Indies. The German government operating the Zeppelins between Europe and South America has been continuously interested in a source of supply of this non inflammable gas. This German demand undoubtedly would be measured in terms of millions of cubic feet.

"The helium company has been denied the right to sell helium for export.

"The [illegible] for All nations want helium and the United States has the supply. They want it for ostensibly commercial purposes but it would be a tremendous advantage in time of war. If the United States sold more to France or to Germany diplomatic complications would necessarily ensue."

Security

The only answer to the problem was given by Representative Lanham of Texas in the same unpublished testimony:

"Since we have this valuable agent, since these countries cannot get it, since they have been trying to get it here commercially and are willing to pay a high price for it, I think this God given agency of defense ought to be kept in this country.

"Unless the United States wants to get entangled in all the politics of Europe and Asia it will keep its helium for its own use. It cannot sell to all without weakening itself. It cannot sell to one without offending another."

It was Mr. Lanham who thought he heard Mr. Howington say the Hitler government definitely asked for helium and he still thinks so. The record does not show it, but records do not always show everything that happens in committees. Chairman Lister Hill of Alabama does not recall it. Mr. Lanham may or may not be mistaken but an amendment should be made to the line carried in this column several days ago stating the unpublished testimony would show such a rejected inquiry.

McIntyre Turns Down Radio Offer

NEW YORK May 17—Diary: A patter of rain all day broke so early up and notes from Joe Cook, Zoe Beckley and Dorothy Hall. And a hamper of fruit Dick Berlin sent from Florida. Then setting out to drop in on Faith Baldwin in Connecticut but such a downpour we turned back.

In the afternoon Gene Crawley, a prudent and foreseeing fellow, sat awhile. And came a bewitching lady from an advertising agency to fob me up with fair speech about a radio broadcast engagement. But I had the good reasoning to say nay and stick to it, at last.

He is military looking and with monocle clapped in eye and hat rakishly just so seems eager and ready for adventure. And he has been in the midst of many excitements both in Central Europe and the Orient. He was born in Paris, educated in England and is married to the popular literary agent Jean Wick. LANCASTER O May 17—Union workers considered today the action of Police Chief Gail Sesler in turning back at the city limits a representative of the Committee for Industrial Organization and wondered what the next development in a tense labor situation here would be

Sesler accompanied by several policemen erected a highway barricade and set up a machine gun yesterday to prevent the entrance into the city of a group of men he said he learned were coming from Columbus to pack a meeting of Hocking Glass Co workers here

Instead of the 150 men Sesler said he had heard were en route only George Denucci of Columbus CIO representative for central Ohio and Avery Dennis president of a unit of the United Auto Workers a CIO union put in an appearance

Their car was halted at the city limits and turned back while a crowd which had heard of Sesler's preparations looked on Sesler said Denucci agreed to go back without trouble but the Columbus man asserted he was forced to return

Denucci said glass workers had petitioned us for organized assistance and that he and Dennis came to Lancaster to assist in organization of a C I O union among workers at the Hocking Co

of units operated throughout the nation and elsewhere

A ruling by a three judge federal district court at New Orleans sustaining the levy was affirmed Justice Roberts delivered the 4 to 4 decision Justices Sutherland McReynolds and Butler dissented Justices Vandevanter and Stone did not participate in the decision

The Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co and 12 other corporations attacked the tax which levied taxes ranging from $10 to $550 per store

The Difference in Tax

Because it had 15,084 establishments throughout the nation and in Canada the A & P Co said it was taxed $550 for each of its 106 stores in Louisiana It added that one of its competitors H G Hill Stores Inc which operates 67 stores in New Orleans has to pay only $30 per store

The A & P contended that if the act were upheld the era of the national chain is over and it may perhaps also be said that the era of national corporations and of firms or individual doing business in more than one state is over It asserted that sustaining the levy would open the door to the application of a similar theory to franchise income and other taxes

Roberts asserted that the policy Louisiana is free to adopt with respect to the business activities of her own citizens she may apply to the citizens of other states who conduct the same business within her borders and this irrespective of whether the evils requiring regulation arise solely from operations in Louisiana or are in part the result of extra state transactions

Not Due Process Denial

It is not a denial of due process he added to adjust such license taxes as are here involved to meet the local evil resulting from business practice and superior economic power even though those advantages and that power are largely due to the fact that the taxpayer does business not only in Louisiana but in other states

Justice Sutherland in his dissent said the exaction here involved is not a tax upon Louisiana property or business but is essentially a penalty imposed upon an operator of business wholly beyond the reach of the law of the state

A number of states have levied special taxes against chain stores but they were based on the number of units operated within the state The supreme court has upheld such taxes

Other challengers of the Louisiana law included F W Woolworth Co J C Penney Co Montgomery Ward & Co Sears Roebuck & Co and Liggett Drug Co

Chance for Variety

If your choice is baked ham it may have many variations. Place the ham fat side up in an open roasting pan and bake at a low temperature until done. During the last few minutes of baking score the ham in diagonal lines, stick it with whole cloves and baste with strained honey. The strained honey adds an attractive glaze as well as a distinctive flavor.

The usual bouquet of parsley may be enhanced by pineapple rings which have been browned in the ham drippings and maraschino cherries or orange and grapefruit sections. Baked whole apricots or pears also are a fresh idea. These are placed in the oven with the ham just long enough before serving so that they are heated.

For Convenient Use

The Mock [illegible] are not [illegible] and may be popped into the oven as a surprise for the bridge foursome or the luncheon table.

The essentials are a loaf of un[illegible] white bread [illegible] heavy condensed milk and a [illegible] of shredded cocoanut. Cut cubes of bread about one and one half inches [illegible] Dip in condensed milk then dip in cocoanut until each cube is completely covered. If these are done at home place on a grill directly under the broiler and [illegible] until crisply brown. In camp they are done on long handled forks or sticks.

The long handled forks are handy too for kabobs, the [illegible] which the girls broil over the embers as their [illegible] banquet dish. We come to a big picnic season and bigger appetites.

Lamb Curry

This lamb curry is credited to the [illegible] which means of course that some olive oil [illegible] Olive fat may be substituted.

Two cups cooked lamb diced, one onion diced, one half cup rice stock, one cup lamb stock, one cup boiled potatoes diced, two tablespoons curry powder, lemon juice and salt to taste.

Brown the onion in olive oil in a deep pan. Then add stock and one half cup water in which rice has been boiled. Add curry powder mixed smooth in a little of the rice stock. Simmer slowly until oil and curry form dark globules on the surface. Add the lamb and continue simmering and stirring.

Just before serving stir in the juice of a lemon. Lamb curry should always be served with hot steamed rice. If necessary the rice may be cooked in advance and reheated by steaming over hot water. Incidentally curry addicts prefer this dish during hot weather.

Grapefruit Mint Cocktail

One cup sugar, two cups water, one third cup lemon juice, two drops oil of spearmint, green vegetable coloring, three grapefruits.

Make a syrup of the sugar and water by boiling one minute. Cool, add lemon juice which has been strained and spearmint and coloring. Pour into freezing tray of automatic refrigerator.

When frozen to a mush remove to a chilled bowl and beat briskly. Return to tray and finish freezing. Cut grapefruit in half, remove membrane. Fill center with mint ice and serve immediately. Serves six. For a special luncheon or outdoor meal place green leaves on plate under grapefruit to carry out color scheme.

Filled Turnovers

Here is a seasonable delicacy that can be commended because part of the mixture may be stored in the icebox. A supply of this filling guarantees a quick dessert and popularity with the children.

One and one half pounds soft sweet butter, one half pound cream cheese, two cups flour, any desired jam (Strawberry jam is particularly delicious).

Cream butter until very light with fork, add cheese and slowly blend in flour. Keep mixture cool after it is mixed or it will be difficult to roll. Roll paper thin, cut with cookie cutter and put teaspoon of desired jam in center. Fold over in half and press edges together. Bake in a hot oven until brown.

Bake only the amount required and keep remaining dough in refrigerator as these turnovers are best if eaten while fresh. Fancy cutters will add to the pleasure at a children's party.

Eggs Marguerite

Four eggs separated, two teaspoons butter, four slices trimmed toast, salt, pepper, paprika.

Beat the egg whites until stiff, with a few grains of salt. Arrange a mound of the whites on each slice of toast. Make a depression in the centers, then drop a whole egg yolk into each. Dot with butter and sprinkle with seasonings.

Place under heated broiler until the egg whites are brown and the yolks partially cooked. If these are used as a luncheon dish, serve with pickles and hashed brown potatoes.

* * *

Apple Butter Pie

One half cup brown sugar; three egg yolks; one-half cup apple butter, one half cup milk, one cup water, one half teaspoon salt, one and one-half teaspoons cinnamon, one half teaspoon ground nutmeg, one-eighth teaspoon cloves, one tablespoon gelatine, one half cup cold water, three egg whites beaten stiff, two tablespoons granulated sugar.

Cook brown sugar, egg yolks, apple butter, milk, one cup water, salt and spices until mixture thickens. Soak gelatine in one half cup cold water five minutes and add to the hot mixture.

Let cool and when it begins to congeal fold in egg whites which had been beaten with the two tablespoons sugar. Pour into baked pie shell, chill and serve with whipped cream unsweetened flavored with vanilla.

STRAWBERRY CREAM PIE

A graham cracker crust is used in this strawberry cream pie which makes a delicious summer dessert. Other ingredients include confectioners sugar, sweetened condensed milk, whipping cream, lemon juice and strawberries.

The [illegible] strawberries for [illegible] salad [illegible] pitchers.

Add Sugar Syrup

Fresh [illegible] bananas, oranges, diced fresh or canned pineapple, apricots, peaches or pears. A little sugar syrup, fruit juice or honey may be mixed in with such combinations for the sake of additional sweetening and liquid. A sprig of mint too adds color and flavor.

To be at their best such fruit mixtures should be chilled thoroughly. If they are frozen the slightest bit they are even more delicious.

Family desserts consist of strawberries and Bavarian cream, for other gelatin combinations sweetened strawberries used as filling for meringue shells or placed on top of angel food or pound cake slices and topped with ice cream or whipped cream, or hollowed out sponge or angel food cakes filled with sweetened berries and sprinkled with cocoanut.

Strawberry Ice Cream

Strawberry ice cream is a favorite. It may be made by adding two cups of berries and two-thirds of a cup of sugar to a quart of half frozen vanilla ice cream. Two cups of crushed berries and half a cup of granulated sugar may also be added to one quart of partially frozen lemon ice to make a tempting sherbet for dessert or between meal refreshment.

No matter what use is to be made of them the berries selected at the market should be firm, ripe and evenly colored. Because they mold easily it is best to store them unwashed in a shallow container in the refrigerator. When it is time to prepare them they should be handled carefully to avoid bruising, washed carefully and then have their hulls removed.

Strawberry Cream Pie

One baked pie shell, ⅔ cup granulated sugar, ⅓ cup flour, 2 eggs beaten, 2 cups milk, 1 teaspoon vanilla, ¼ teaspoon almond extract, ⅛ teaspoon salt, 2 cups berries.

Blend the sugar with the flour. Add eggs and milk. Cook until creamy in a double boiler stirring constantly. Cool. Add extracts, salt and berries and pour into pie shell. Serve plain or covered with whipped cream.

Strawberry Cream Pie

Two baked cake layers, 3 cups berries, ½ cup sugar, 1 cup whipped cream.

Mix berries with sugar. Spread half on one cake layer. Top with the other layer of cake. Spread with cream and decorate with the remaining berries. Serve cut in wedge shaped pieces.

Strawberry Cream Pie

One and one-third cups sweetened condensed milk, ¼ cup lemon juice, 1 cup sliced [illegible] cup whipping cream, 2 tablespoons confectioners sugar, graham cracker pie crust.

Blend sweetened condensed milk and lemon juice. Stir until mixture thickens. Fold in sliced strawberries. Pour into a pie pan lined with graham cracker pie crust. Cover with whipped cream sweetened with confectioners sugar. Chill before serving.

Graham Cracker Pie Crust

Roll enough graham crackers to make a cup of crumbs. Cut eight graham crackers in half diagonally to stand around edge of pie plate and put them in place. Cover bottom of plate with crumbs and fill in spaces between halved crackers. Pour in filling as usual.

Philip Veritzen Asks Madge Where Mary Is Hiding

It is [illegible] Philip [illegible] But I [illegible] Mary should be [illegible] grand [illegible] his guest. I was [illegible] at his [illegible] I lost sight of everything else [illegible] of the few [illegible] I had made [illegible] him with every [illegible] that he might be [illegible] for Mary's sake.

Something [illegible] his manner, however, as he inquired for Mary made me realize that courtesy and [illegible] would be wasted on him in his present mood. [illegible] Mrs. [illegible] I felt he was [illegible] the warpath with all his paint on and I knew that it was high time for me to [illegible] in Mary's defense [illegible] I might possess.

"Mary should feel honored," he said, "as I do, to serve [illegible] illustrious guests, Queen Olga and Princess Olina, in any way she can."

Why Should She?

Fiddlesticks! I exclaimed with purposeful [illegible] This happens to be the United States of America and exiled queens and princesses are [illegible] there [illegible] of [illegible]

I do not mean [illegible] slowly [illegible] the indisputable fact that Queen Olga should have all the care and attention we can give her [illegible] because she is an exiled queen but because she is an old woman ill and broken by misfortune.

Something queer and elusive leaped into Philip Veritzen's eyes. [illegible] had called Queen Olga an old woman [illegible] the words would affect him as I [illegible] my answer in his instinctive [illegible]

"But Olina is a [illegible] and but little older than Mary," I said. "There can be no possible reason why Mary should run her errands."

I expected further [illegible] to descend upon my head but Philip Veritzen was looking at me almost indulgently, and there was a [illegible] twinkle in his eye. If Olympian Jove had suddenly become playful I could not have been more surprised.

Madge Complimented

"You are a doughty champion, my dear lady," he said with just enough pause after the adjective to make it significant. "And you will doubtless be delighted to know that I am planning to free Mary [illegible] at once from the necessity of running any errands for any [illegible]

"Beware of the Greeks bearing gifts."

The ancient maxim leaped into my brain and I felt my nerves quivering.

"Here it comes," I said to myself and stiffened my resolution to defend Mary from whatever scheme against her happiness her father [illegible] new thing. Tell [illegible] that [illegible] There are [illegible] you know.

I [illegible] at the [illegible] answering [illegible] was steady.

ALL women at some period of their lives need a tonic. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription [illegible]

Your Health

BY DR. R. S. COPELAND

Prostatic Ailment

There is one [illegible] of the [illegible] that make [illegible] advance in age. I refer to a possible [illegible] gland which has been [illegible] and causes a great deal of discomfort.

Perhaps a third of all men over 60 years of age suffer in one [illegible] or another from a disturbance [illegible] physical disabilities [illegible] of the prostate.

[illegible] this was regarded by the public as a serious ailment. The victim feared the operation and avoided the doctor. There was good ground for this because the operation had a very high percentage of mortality.

Today the outlook is entirely different. The dangers of the operation for prostatic hypertrophy have been greatly lessened and it is no longer considered to be so serious. In the majority of cases relief is prompt and permanent. In an aggravated case delay is far more dangerous than the removal of the prostate could possibly be.

The gland, found only in the male, is located in the neck of the bladder.

Like the appendix, we do not know the actual function of the prostate gland. We do know it can be removed without any ill effects from its loss.

The enlargement takes place gradually, usually over a period of several years. The victim notices progressive difficulty in urination. It may be necessary to void frequently and consequently the sleep is disturbed at night. If the condition is neglected and the enlargement progresses there may be pronounced symptoms from the obstruction.

As a result of the damming back of the urine the bladder sometimes becomes infected. In rare cases the infection may go up to one or both kidneys. Absorption of poisons developed in such cases may produce weakness of the heart and damage of the blood vessels.

Of course not all cases of prostate hypertrophy need be operated. The congestion and swelling may be relieved by simple prostatic massage. Conservative treatment with particular attention to the diet may be sufficient to effect a cure. The exact type of treatment can only be determined by your doctor.

But who will provide the Cornerstone for your Castles-in-the-air?

PROBABLY you, like everyone else, have your castles in the air. Dreams of security. Dreams of leisure.

Anyone can dream dreams, to be sure. But there is a man right here in town whose business it is to make dreams a reality—to provide cornerstones for castles in the air. And he is doing it—every day.

Thanks to him, a work-weary man is closing his desk for the last time. Now carefree years are his to enjoy.

Thanks to him, a boy whose father is no longer here will stride proudly across a platform in June to receive a college diploma.

Thanks to him, a young widowed mother and her three small children are facing the future unafraid because they have a regular monthly income.

Who is this man? Some call him a life insurance salesman. But millions of Americans know him as the man who helps to make dreams come true.

No matter what your hopes for the future may be—no matter how modest your present income—this man can show you how to start a life insurance plan—how to make your hope of security for yourself and those you love a living reality!

WHO BENEFITS FROM AMERICA'S LIFE INSURANCE?

Since the end of 1929 American life insurance companies have paid to policyholders and beneficiaries over $18,000,000,000—enough, for example, to provide an income of $150 a month to more than a million families for 10 years.

In 1936 alone the amount paid out was $2,400,000,000.

Upsetting the old idea that you have to die to win, $1,160,000,000—more than 60% of the total amount—went to living policyholders.

This year, payments to both policyholders and beneficiaries are being made at the rate of more than a quarter of a million dollars every hour of every day.

Away-From-Home Jitters Beset Cleveland Indians

BY SID FEDER

Just four weeks ago today, big league baseball lifted the curtain on its annual follies—and already a lot of the production heads are yelling for more aspirin.

Outside of Pie Traynor there isn't a director in the show without a full-sized headache.

To mention only a few, there's suffering Steve O'Neill, who can't do a thing for the away-from-home jitters of his Cleveland Indians; and Bill Terry, who wonders why the second-division clubs always pick on his Giants; and Charley Grimm, whose injured list is so long and still growing that he's thinking of installing hospital cots in the Cubs' clubhouse.

The week-end added a few more pains to these sufferers and a lot of others, but for Traynor and the moguls—particularly the latter—everything was beer and skittles. The faithful turned out all over both circuits yesterday, with some 150,000 cash customers jamming through the gates.

Traynor couldn't find a thing to worry about even if he looked for it. His Pirates, at their current pace are going to be about as easy to catch as Jesse Owens. Continuing to show their new-found "Zip" they knocked off the Cardinals again yesterday, 2-1, to take a 5½ game hold on first place in the National League.

Joe McCarthy, Yankee pilot, found the clouds disappearing as his revamped lineup regained first place in the American League by tapping the Athletics 8-1 before 35,-725 fans, largest Shibe park crowd since the championship days of '29, '30 and '31. Rookie Tom Henrich did the heavy clouting and Red Ruffing made a seven-hit 1937 pitching debut.

Cleveland's Indians, dropping a 6-4 decision to the White Sox at Chicago, maintained their record in [illegible] four home games [illegible]. [illegible] played four, and have lost four times.

The Giants, still third in the National League, would be a lot happier if they could get by those second division outfits. Claude Passeau blanked them 6-0 for the Phillies yesterday, marking the eighth time out of 11 losses this year that the league champions have been beaten by second-division troublemakers.

For a few moments, things looked brighter for Charley Grimm yesterday, with Catcher Gabby Hartnett and Pitcher Tex Carleton returning to the Cubs from the hospital list. But Hartnett went right back on with a split finger and Carleton, as relief pitcher, lost a 3-2 decision to the Cincinnati Reds. Chick Hafey, at bat for the first time in two years, drove in the winning run with a fly in the ninth.

Two distance battles marked the program, with the Boston Bees nosing out Brooklyn and Van Mungo 3-2 in 12 innings, and the Boston Red Sox socking Washington's slipping Senators 6-5 in 11.

Detroit's Tigers finally clicked against the St. Louis Browns with a 5-4 win as Roxie Lawson came through with his fifth pitching triumph.

SUNDAY SCHOOL NO. 2 LEAGUE TEAMS SET FOR FIRST CONTESTS

Two Other Loops To Open Schedules on Tuesday and Thursday Nights.

With the help of a bright and early dawn and the weatherman's forecast of generally fair for today, Marion's 1937 softball program was apparently all set to be started tonight, when four teams of the Sunday School loop No. 2 are to go into action.

Two games will feature tonight's program, Greenwood Evangelical *meeting the Lutherans on the Mar*ion Steam Shovel diamond and Wesley No. 2 clashing with the Epworth Bishops on the President field. With the sixth member of the No. 2 loop still in uncertainty this morning, one of the league games will be held over until later in the season.

It was expected by commission officials that St. Mary would become the sixth member of No. 2 league and in that event the parochial team will drop into the regular playing schedule next week. Christian's entry will be idle tonight because the team is matched with the sixth entry of the league.

This week will also see the opening of the two other organized loops, Sunday School No. 1 and Industrial, playing on Tuesday and Thursday nights respectively. The six teams of the No. 2 league are all set for their season opening games tomorrow night, while plans for the initial contests of the eight-team Industrial loop, are also completed.

The entire week's schedule with listing the teams as they are paired for opening round games and designating the field on which they will play will be found elsewhere on the sports page. The program, as announced by commission members, will include three rounds for the eight-team Industrial loop.

All of the championship teams of the twilight loops of last year will get back into the harness and be out striving to repeat this season. In Sunday school league No. 1, two defending champs, Lee Street Presbyterian and Wesley No. 1, are entered, while in the Industrial conference, the Marion Steam Shovel team, holders of last year's Commercial flag, will be active.

WAR ADMIRAL WINS PREAKNESS BY HEAD

Turf Feud Looms Between Son of Man O' War and J. H. Loucheim's Pompoon.

BY PAUL SIMMONS

BALTIMORE, May 17 — Out of War Admiral's flashing triumphs in the Kentucky Derby and the Preakness there shaped up today a feud of thoroughbreds that may become a classic of American racing.

The other principal is the long-striding bay colt, Pompoon, the only racer that has ever been able to get up and run with the brilliant son of Man O' War was a three-year old.

This strong-limbed son of Pompey from the stable of J. H. Loucheim was a length and a half behind the champion at the finish of the Derby. Yet, having proved he is a stayer, he came back at Samuel D. Riddle's sleek brown speedster in the Preakness Saturday at Pimlico with such force that he made the race one of the greatest the historic "Old Hilltop" course has ever seen.

The two thoroughbreds, both in top condition, drove down the stretch neck and neck, out*distancing the rest of the field by* lengths just as they had done in the Derby. It looked once as though Pompoon might win but War Admiral, responding with a quick burst of speed, shoved his head well in front at the finish.

MARION HIGH SCHOOL DEFEATS MT. GILEAD TEAM BY ONE POINT

Extra Inning Score Decides Baseball Game, 4-3, at Uncapher Ave. Field.

Marion's high school baseball team came through with a 4 to 3 victory over Mt. Gilead in an extra-inning game on the Uncapher avenue diamond Saturday afternoon. With the count knotted at 3-3 at the end of the seventh, Louis Wood, Marion southpaw hurler, tamed the visitors in the first of the eighth and left it up to his teammates to come through with the winning run in the last half of the frame.

In the final half of the crucial inning, Huffman led off for Marion with a single and advanced to third on Sharrock's bunt. Frazier walked and stole second, with the following batter striking out. Wood was intentionally walked, filling the bases. Watson, Marion catcher, drove the second pitch from a Texas leaguer over third base, scoring Huffman with the winning run.

The victory gave Marion an even break in two meetings with Mt. Gilead, and a similar standing for its four games this season. Marion lost its first encounter with Mt. Gilead, 7 to 3, and broke even in a pair of games with the Edison team, another Morrow county school.

Heavy slugging honors in Saturday's game went to the invading Mt. Gilead team. L. Logan getting a triple and Weller and Logan doubling. Marion's only extra base hit was collected by its moundsman, Wood, who doubled in one of his two trips to the plate. Of Marion's five hits off England, Huffman, shortstop, got two, and Wood, Detwiler and Watson accounted for one each.

SNATCHES OF SPORTS

BY EDDIE BRIETZ

NEW YORK, May 17—Mebbe Lou Gehrig was a bit hard to get to when the Yanks stopped off in Grand Rapids, Mich., last week. Anyway, the boys out there have formed a "we don't want Gehrig's autograph" club, with 25 charter members. That's Benny Friedman, City college coach you hear moaning: "All we need up here is seven linemen and four backs," says Benny. "We have the place."

• • •

Carl Hubbell gets his big test when he goes after No. 22 (in a row) against Dizzy Dean at St. Louis tomorrow. Don't shed any tears for Jess Harper, former Notre Dame coach. They're just struck oil on his Texas ranch and Jess will be doing all right. If the Giants are dickering for Morris Arnovich of the Phillies, you can't blame them, can you? After watching every club in the American League, Joe McCarthy opines the Tigers are the ones his Yankees have to whip. Patsy Perroni, the Cleveland heavyweight, has only two fingers on his left hand.

• • •

Tennis experts here favor Bryan (Bitsy) Grant over Frankie Parker for a Davis cup team post... Two girl baseball teams put on a show in Macon, Ga., the other day. Score was Newberry 44, Happ 2 (after five innings)... John Henry Lewis' failure to tag Patsy Perroni the other night didn't make John Henry look any better as a heavyweight prospect.

• • •

Joe DiMaggio is doing so well in Lou Gehrig's clean-up spot with the Yankees Joe McCarthy intends leaving him there. That very entertaining boxing magazine, "Bang," advertises Tommy Spiegel as the lightweight cham*pion of the south*. What's happened to Chino Alvarez?

TWO TOP NOTCH BOUTS ON CARD

Two top notch featured bouts over the 90-minute time limit and what is expected to be a rousing 20-minute preliminary, are scheduled for tonight's wrestling program at the Marion Steam Shovel gymnasium. Scrapping on the basis of two falls to win, LeRoy McGuirk, former holder of the National Wrestling association's light heavyweight crown, will tangle with Sergeant Ron Kenaston, the husky ex-marine from Silver City, Ore.

Buck Weaver, well known since he turned from his feats on the gridiron at Indiana univ[illegible] where he won All-American [illegible] ognition to professional wrest[illegible] will clash with Mystery Mike [illegible] unidentified and unknown [illegible] made his debut last week by [illegible] ning in two consecutive falls [illegible] Cecil McGill. In tonight's [illegible] liminary George Becker of [illegible] York City is scheduled to [illegible] Dutch Schultz of Dallas, Tex. [illegible] are well-known in mat circles [illegible] will be making their initial app[illegible] ances in the Marion ring. [illegible] bouts are to start at 8:30 o'cl[illegible]

RED BIRDS, ST. PAU[illegible] DIVIDE HONORS [illegible] TWO-GAME PROGRA[illegible]

Brewers Continue Win[illegible] Streak by Defeating Tri[illegible] Lose Second Game.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, May 17—The [illegible] Tigers influence still is [illegible] by the Milwaukee Brewers [illegible] have been setting a dizzy [illegible] the American Association [illegible] pionship race.

The Brewers were not [illegible] to set the association on fire [illegible] the season opened. But they [illegible] from the start and until yes[illegible] terday afternoon had won [illegible] in a row to far outdistance [illegible] ond place Minneapolis Millers.

The Tiger influence [illegible] was in the form of five-hit [illegible] by Pat McLaughlin acquired [illegible] Indianapolis last week from [illegible] troit. McLaughlin pitched [illegible] Tribe to a seven-inning 2 [illegible] over Milwaukee in the nightcap [illegible] a double bill. Milwaukee won [illegible] first game 11 to 2 for 12 [illegible] in a row.

Dividing a double-header was [illegible] habit of the day along the [illegible] three battle fronts. Louisville [illegible] its first game with Kansas [illegible] 4 to 1, behind seven-hit pitching [illegible] Jim Peterson, but lost the [illegible] cap 8 to 5 as the Blues unle[illegible] an offense good for 11 safeties.

Columbus defeated St. Paul [illegible] 6 in their opener and then dr[illegible] a 6 to 5 decision in the second [illegible] test. Jim Jordan hit a double [illegible] the bases loaded in the [illegible] give the Red Birds their first [illegible] tory of the series. In the nightcap [illegible] relief pitcher Gliatto was effe[illegible] for the Saints after Bill [illegible] been shelled from the hill.

Minneapolis and Toledo had [illegible] program held up more than [illegible] hour by rain but finally [illegible] through with it, the Millers [illegible] 14 to 6 and then handing Toledo [illegible] 5 to 4 defeat in the second [illegible]

Chet Laabs, recently sent [illegible] to Toledo by Detroit, had a [illegible] two triples and two singles in [illegible] trips.

In the second battle, Henry Wagner pitched eight-hit ball [illegible] lence the Hen bats.

WITHHOLDS COMMENT ON BALLISTIC TESTS

Special to The Star

MT. GILEAD, O., May 17—Prosecuting Attorney Nelson Campbell today said he has "some idea" what the report in ballistics tests made in the investigation of the mysterious slaying of Mrs. Caroline Hack, 76, at her farm home southwest of Cardington but is not prepared to comment on the results.

As the inquiry went into its twenty-ninth day, the prosecutor said he expects further details of the ballistics tests soon. The tests were made by the state bureau of criminal identification and investigation with six guns rounded up by Sheriff Oscar George and two of the three bullets that killed Mrs. Hack. One of the bullets was broken to bits and only small parts of it were recovered.

The prosecutor said he and Sheriff George are holding open the investigation but that there have been no new important clues.
